

Enhancing people enhancing business performance

Nina Till Human Resources Specialist

I have 14 years HR experience working in medium to large organisations with experience in all areas of Human Resources. I have worked in HR in a variety of industries including manufacturing, FMCG, public sector, construction, and natural health. I enjoy working in a variety of different industries and discovering how HR can contribute to the bottom line through effective people management and planning. My specialist areas are:

- HR policies and procedures
- Managing performance
- Restructuring and change management
- Remuneration, salary reviews and benchmarking
- Strategic planning
- Coaching and feedback
- Employment relations
- Recruitment and selection processes and policies
- Union negotiations
